

7 Steps Training Program

The inFocus 7 Steps Training is a comprehensive program of training based on the inFocus 7 Steps to measuring social change curriculum (click here to access the latest 7 Steps guide). The 7 Steps helps an organization to take action to increase the impact and financial sustainability of their programs by:

- ▶ Increasing the knowledge and expertise of staff and volunteers on the topic of M&E
- ▶ Developing the capacity of organizations to conduct effective and high quality M&E

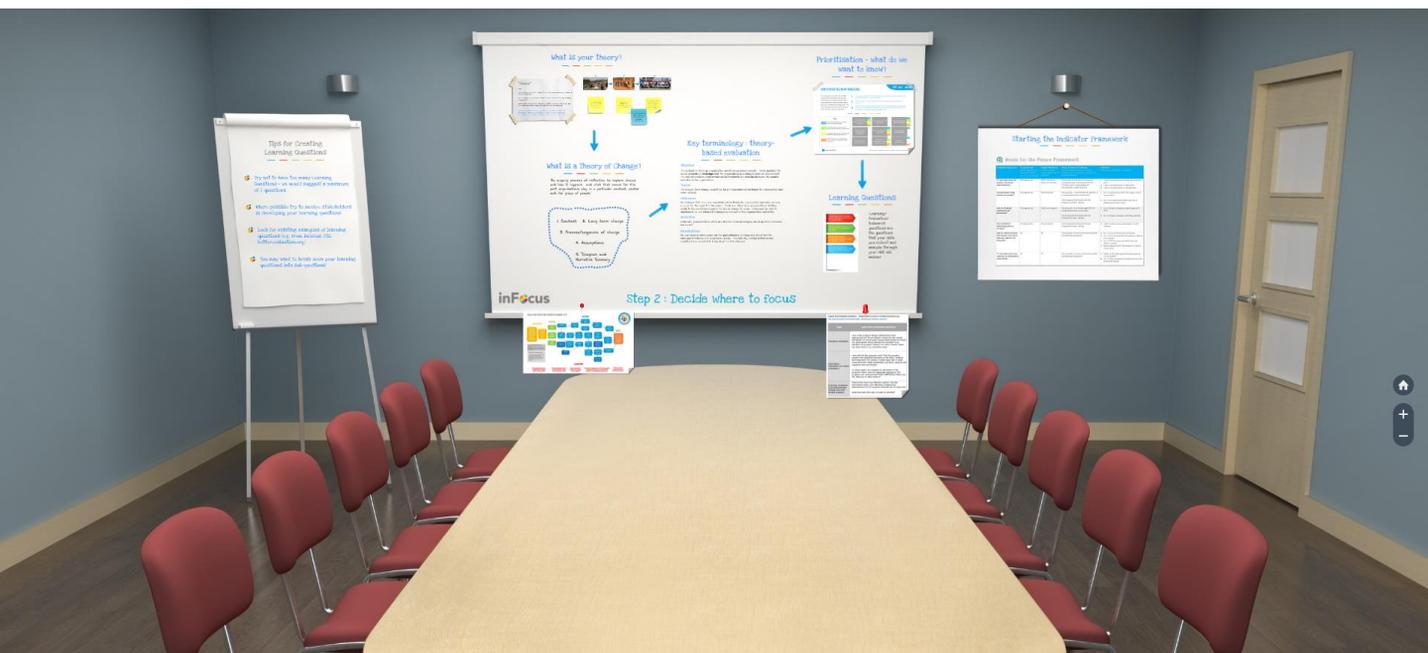

7 Steps courses are delivered online via webinars that give participants an opportunity to connect and interact with other organizations across the globe. Using our unique online classroom format our expert trainers ensure that courses are:

- ▶ Practical - with guides, templates and resources that break down complex topics into practical steps
- ▶ Relevant – with courses built on years of inFocus experience of the challenges experienced by individuals and organizations and constantly adapting and improving to ensure insights are actionable
- ▶ Fun and engaging – courses are interactive and involve games and exercises to bring the topic of M&E to life

“The topics that are discussed are directly relevant to the needs and challenges that we have in our organization. The fact that inFocus are practitioners in the field really leads to the development of content that is practical and easy to apply.”

Sheri Errington, Fight with Insight

inFocus 7 Step curriculum runs on a rolling basis across the year, with the next 4 months courses scheduled in advance (click here to access our live course calendar). This provides our Annual Pass holders with six separate opportunities across the year to 'live' attend every one of the 19 courses and/or access the recordings for all courses. 7 Step courses can also be run in-person as customised training for organizations and/or networks.

How to Develop a Theory of Change

(2 x 4 hours)

inFocus trainers draw upon their experience of developing theories of change with over 100 organizations and programs around the world, to share how you can develop a powerful and 'best in class' theory of change. The course is supported by an eLearning course consisting of five modules containing interactive content, illustrations, exercises, videos and audio to give users in-depth and practical knowledge on theory of change.

How to Train Staff to Collect Data

(1 x 4 hours)

This course will guide an organizations' M&E lead person on how to run a training session for other staff and volunteers. It covers the basic principles for successfully deploying questionnaires, a training manual with instructions on how to deliver a training session for staff, along with training resources to support the process, including a PowerPoint presentation, several hand-outs and agendas for a 1-hour, 1/2 day or full day training session.

Essentials Courses

(2 hours per course)

Essentials courses help individuals and organizations to focus in on specific skills and techniques. There are 16 modules, shown in the table below:

Essentials Course Modules :
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▶ Introduction to inFocus 7 Steps to High Performance ▶ How to plan your evaluation ▶ How to conduct participatory M&E ▶ How to conduct ethical M&E ▶ How to develop indicators ▶ How to choose 'creative' M&E methods 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▶ How to develop questionnaires ▶ How to get the right sample ▶ How to conduct interviews ▶ How to run a focus group ▶ How to protect your data ▶ How to set up a data quality process 	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▶ How to analyze quantitative results ▶ How to analyze qualitative results ▶ How to write effective reports ▶ How to use your M&E to drive fundraising ▶ How to use your M&E to improve programs

Customised courses

We recognise that there are also circumstances where organizations would like to customise our course content further, to suit their organization's particular needs and context.

There are two levels of customization:

- ▶ Tailor some or all of the individual 7 Steps courses to create a branded version of the 7 Steps Training program for a network OR
- ▶ Develop a highly bespoke training course, picking and choosing different course elements from across the '7 Steps Training program' to be delivered flexibly and potentially utilising a mixture of onsite or online training approaches

Whatever the circumstances, the inFocus course development and training team is happy to quote a price to first create and then deliver a unique training curriculum. Contact Us for more details!

Want to deliver inFocus training?

We also recognise that some organizations wish to continue the capacity development process for their INTERNAL staff teams, by building their own internal capacity to deliver training to their own staff. inFocus provides Trainer of Trainers (ToT) support to individuals to deliver any of the Essentials Modules, utilising inFocus materials and training techniques, as well as general training in Group Facilitation methods to support a fully participatory process.
